A World in the City

Grace and Trent were twins who lived in a skyscraper in a huge city. One day their mother's sister Chris came over to visit.

"How is school going?" she asked.

"We're reading about exploring the world,"

Grace said. "We found out about stars."

"But Grace and I can't explore the world," Trent said. "We have to stay right here in this place."

Chris said, "Well, you have trees in the city.

We have birds, and we have the sky. We also have flowers growing in the front yard. And most of all, we have the lake!"

She went over to the big window. "Tell me what you see from here."

"I see the sun and waves and the beach, and I also see some small clouds," said Grace.

"Oh, I get it!" Trent said. "We can explore the world right outside our window!"
